A Step Forward
the Industry

The Indian Metal Industry

India is expected to become the world's second largest producer of crude steel in the next 10 years,

The current steel Production in India is about 90 Million Tons and Government of India is aiming to scale up to 300 Million Tons by 2025.

Huge scope for growth is offered by India's comparatively low per capita steel consumption and the expected rise in consumption due to increased infrastructure construction and the thriving automobile and railways sectors.

The Indian steel industry is currently passing through a severe downturn phase. The chief reason for the stress in the sector is mainly downbeat global demand trend and overcapacity. Steel and Mines Industry is hopeful about the future of the steel sector in India. It is believed that the sector is gradually coming out of the difficult condition it had plunged into. The Government is aware of current challenges, but thinks that the corrective measures taken would address them adequately.

Few other facts are

- India is the Largest Sponge Iron Producer in the World
- India produces 87 minerals
- The total production of minerals in 2015-16 estimated 234.8 million tonnes.
- The total value of mineral production during 2015-16 has been estimated at INR 26,689,550 Million
- Steel industry and its associated mining and metallurgy sectors attracted foreign direct investments (FDI) of US$ 1,669.49 million and US$ 11,000 million during 2000-2015.
